

Computers: Inside & Out - Storage Vocabulary Worksheet

Fill in the blanks with the vocabulary words from the box below.
Use each word only one time.

pits	data	electricity	lands
magnets	primary	floppy disk	rpm
CD	magnetism	DVD	secondary

1. Primary memory is stored on chips located on the motherboard.
2. Secondary memory is stored in the hard drive.
3. A Floppy disk holds 1.44 MB of storage.
4. The process of reading and writing to a hard or floppy disk is done with Electricity and Magnetism.
5. A CD usually stores about 650 MB.
6. CDs use Electricity and Magnets to store data on the disk's surface.
7. Always keep Magnets away from computers and floppy disks because they can erase information.
8. The purpose of storage in a computer is to hold Data or information.
9. Hard drives spin at 3600 or more rpm.
10. A DVD holds even more information than a CD

